Osama Asasfeh

computer science student and full stack web developer

ABOUT ME

A software Developer,computer science student and problem solving coach.

With ~4 years of freelance experience.

Have a software architecture, design, implementation and problem-solving skills

My mission is to help develop high quality software without wasting money or effort.

When I'm not designing some solutions or processes, I grab my laptop and start making some tutorials about technology or framework

CONTACT

Address
Jordan.amman

Phone +962 0797324995

Email
osama.alasasfah@gmail.com linkedin.com/in/osama-al-asasfeh

SKILLS

java

php javascript python

c++ htm/css

react

INTERESTS

AI

Web3

Blockchain

EDUCATION

Mutah University

bachelor degree in computer science

GPA Excellent

2020 - 2024

EXPERIENCES

ACM(Association for Computing Machinery) Chair

Established the first ACM branch at Mutah University and held the position of chair

I worked on the establishment, planning and management of the ACM branch at Mutah University

Lead Software Developer

at Mutah University Center for Entrepreneurship

I worked on managing it and providing consultancy for pioneering projects and working on partnerships with private sector companies

Introduction to python and problem solving coach

I worked as a python coach for aee

II designed a full course of the Python language and problem solving, consisting of 12 training hours, based on teaching the principles of programming and the principles of problem solving, and there was more than one project during the course

Competitive Programming coach

I worked as a competitive programming coach for mutah university

I designed a complete training course for competitive programming and interview questions. The course was based on advanced algorithms and special solution techniques in programming competitions.

Web Developer for logic-expert

Developing an e-learning platform

I developed and created a website for e-learning and selling courses and it supports the monthly or annual subscription system or direct purchase of the courses. You can visit the site logic-expert.com

Africa and Arab Collegiate Programming Championship

acpc and jcpc Championship

I was one of the participants and qualified people for the Arab Programming Contest and the Jordanian Programming Contest, as I was very interested in advanced algorithms to solve complex problems in computer science.

Mutah University Web Developer development of web volunteer system

I developed a system for registering and supervising volunteer work from scratch in the java language, where the system can register students, initiatives and supervisors, and print reports in different formats, and the system is now working at the university

Network Intern (ccna) In PSUT University

CCNA

I was on a 200-hour training course in securing, supervising, and setting up networks